Metro's own Go Metro mobile app featured on popular national blog

The Go Metro mobile app is featured in an article on the popular blog Apartment Therapy on the top mobile apps to “optimize your travel to Los Angeles.” Our Go Metro app developed by our Customer Communications Technology group was featured as the #1 app in the article. The author writes, “Whenever I travel I make it a priority to familiarize myself with local transit so I know how to get around. And you'll definitely want to research Los Angeles transportation before visiting. The Go Metro Los Angeles app has all the information you need to commute like a true Los Angelite. From buses to rail, this app provides everything anyone would need to get from point A to B, including offline maps, bus arrival alerts or the trip planner. Free”
