

MTA Mosaic

- Public Affairs Events, Tours Combine Fun and Safety

More than 3000 residents and participants, including this young visitor, at right, visited the MTA train safety booth during the Children's Hospital Street Festival at the intersection of Vermont Avenue and Sunset Boulevard, last Saturday and Sunday, May 19 and 20.

- TEXT AND PHOTOS BY RICH MORALLO

Students from Grant Elementary School, above, and Carpenter Elementary School, right, visited the Metro Red Line subway recently to learn about Metro Art, and the safety and security features of Metro Rail.

Los Angeles Unified School District staff members, left, including the planning teams assigned to construct new school buildings for the district, visited the North Hollywood Station on Thursday, May 17.

Day care visitors to the annual health and safety fair at the Pueblo del Rio Housing Development, located near the Slauson Metro Blue Line Station, visited the MTA booth on Wednesday, May 16, and learned about the "Look, Listen and Live" train safety slogan.

Back to Bulletin Board