Robert Spradley of Facilities Maintenance Dies After Long Illness

(June 8, 2001) Robert Spradley, a Facilities Maintenance supervisor, died June 7 following a lengthy illness. He was 63 and had been with the MTA for 10 years.

"For those of us who knew and worked with Bob over the years," wrote Richard Hunt, deputy executive officer, Bus Maintenance, "we will miss his congenial personality, humor and warm smiles."

Spradley is survived by his two adult daughters, Rebecca Spradley and Kelly Bowling. Funeral services will be private.
