Hollywood/Highland Metro Rail Station to Close for Academy Awards Event

(March 12, 2002) The Metro Red Line station at Hollywood and Highland will be closed all day Sunday, March 24, to accommodate the Academy Awards ceremony.

Metro Bus lines also will be rerouted near the Kodak Theater during the week prior to the event.

Metro Red Line trains will continue to operate throughout the day, but will bypass the Hollywood/Highland station. All entrances to the station will be closed to public access for the day. The subway will resume full service at all stations on Monday, March 25.

Metro Bus lines to be affected by preparations for the Academy Awards ceremony are 212 and 217, westbound; lines 2, 3, 26, 156, 163, 180, 181, 210 and 212.
