

Guide dog puppies and trainers gather outside Union Station. Center front in white shirt: Metro Rail Instruction Coordinator Robert Johnson. PHOTO BY ERIC RAPP

Guide Dog Puppy Rail Training A 'Howling' Success

(June 4, 2002) Guide dog puppies in training, part of the Los Angeles Southwest Guide Dog Raisers group, converged on the Transit Mall in Long Beach, last Saturday. The puppies were there to get accustomed to traveling on Metro Rail. After traveling to Union Station using the Metro Blue Line and Metro Red Line, the puppies and their trainers made their way to Olvera Street for fun and puppy socialization.

Back to MTA Report