By BILL HEARD, Editor

(June 9, 2004) Many of those who made the trek to the Reagan Library this week - waiting in line for hours to pay their respects - had fond memories of former President Reagan.

One letter to the President, placed with a bouquet of flowers at the Moorpark College shuttle bus waiting area, read: "Thank you for helping our people of El Salvador when we most needed. And thank you for changing my life and giving me the American Dream!!"

Another, signed by mourners named Camilo, Irene and Cora, exclaimed: "You tore down the wall!"

If you have similar memories you'd like to share with your co-workers, please send an e-mail to myMetro.net for possible use in a page of memories. Submissions must be no longer than 150 words. (The editor reserves the right to choose and edit submissions for posting on the Intranet.)
