April 28 is 'Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day'

(April 6, 2005) Every April, parents are invited to bring their youngsters to work for "Take Our Daughters and Sons To Work Day" — a nationwide program geared to show girls and boys opportunities at an early age.

This year, the event is set for Thursday, April 28. Metro employees can bring their children — in grades three through eight — to work with them.

The theme for 2005 is "Sharing Power and Possibility." This is the 11th year Metro will participate in the program.

Several tours are being planned for the day, including the popular bus simulator at the Regional Rebuild Center, the "mission control" room of Bus Operations Control, tours of the operating divisions as well as tours of the Design Studio, print shop and copy center.

Other activities tentatively scheduled are workshops about careers at Metro and job interviews, as well as a general wrap-up meeting in the Board Room.

Employees who are interested in participating in "Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day" must register with their location coordinators no later than April 20.

The coordinator's name and telephone extension are listed on the poster displayed in the elevator lobbies and at central locations.
