LA Man Linked to $37,000 in Damage to Metro Buses

(Nov. 3, 2006) A Los Angeles man accused of 19 cases of vandalism that caused $37,000 in damage to Metro buses, was arrested Thursday by detectives from the Sheriff's Transit Services Bureau.

Detectives searching the Serrano Avenue home of Roberto A. Jimenez, 21, turned up evidence depicting his alleged tagging moniker and linking him to a notorious tagging crew. Among the items found were Metro route maps and timetables.

Jimenez is the fifth alleged member of the tagging crew to be arrested by Sheriff's detectives. Deputies Matt Haire and David McAllister led the investigation and made the arrest. Jimenez is being held at the Sheriff's Regional Detention Facility in Lynwood.

Based on the evidence, the Transit Services Bureau expects to conduct additional searches and make more arrests in the case.
