WTS Names Carol Inge 'Woman of the Year'

Carol Inge, Metro's chief planning officer, has been named "Woman of the Year" by the Los Angeles Chapter of the Women's Transportation Seminar (WTS).

The award honors women who serve as role models, who contribute to the advancement of women and minorities, and who advance the reputation and credibility of women through their career achievements in the transportation industry. Inge, who serves WTS as a director-at-large, was named Metro's chief planning officer earlier this year.

Inge joined the SCRTD in 1987 as a joint development specialist, moving to the LACTC in 1990 as a senior project manager in the Planning Department. She was named director of the Westside Area Team in 1993 and was promoted to deputy executive officer for Transportation Development and Implementation in 2001. She was named interim chief planning officer in 2005.
