Lee Denson, Retired Mechanic, Dies at 60

- Services are scheduled for 11 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 10, at the Strait-Way Apostolic Church, 102 East Kelso St.. in Inglewood. Information: Arturo Aguilar, (213) 383-1277.

(Nov. 19, 2009) Services will be held on Friday for retired Div. 2 Mechanic "A" Lee Denson, 60, who died Nov. 10.

Born on Aug. 13, 1949, Mr. Denson was hired in September 1979 as a service attendant. He quickly advanced to mechanic and was promoted to Mechanic "A" in March 1986.

Daughter TeAlomia Denson said her father enjoyed his job as a mechanic. He worked out of several divisions, including Arthur Winston Div. 5, Carson Div. 18 and Crossroads Div 2. He worked at Div. 2 from 1999 to the time of his retirement in September 2002.

In the early 90's, Mr. Denson was also a vanpool coordinator and driver for the Moreno Valley and Fontana area, said his daughter, and he was also part of the graffiti removal program.

"He really loved his place of employment," said Ms. Denson, noting he worked at Metro for 23 years. "And, among other things, he loved playing ping pong with his co-workers," she recalled.

Born in Los Angeles August 8, 1949, he resided in Fontana with his family at the time of his death.

Mr. Denson is survived by his wife, Sandy, and four daughters.
