GLENDALE CITY LINES

Join fellow members on Sunday November 12, 1972 as we relive the operations of GLENDALE CITY LINES, a NATIONAL CITY LINES subsidiary which suspended operations beginning on November 1, 1962.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA RAPID TRANSIT DISTRICT Lines 20-EAST GLENOAKS-KENNETH ROAD and 22-ATWATER-EAST COLORADO which were established on December 26, 1962 provide service today over portions of those former routes.

At the time of its demise GCL was operating an entirely second hand fleet of fifteen diesel buses from three different properties including four TD 3602s from PASADENA CITY LINES.

Although none of the GCL buses is still in this area and it is doubted any of them are still in active use although seven were sold for further transit use, DOUGLAS BUS LINES has two TD 3602s which were purchased from PASADENA CITY LINES in 1967, #30 (TD3602/060, former PCL 8612) and #32 (TD3602/063, former PCL 8615).

We will be using one of these coaches as we cover all four GLENDALE CITY LINES routes during our three hour tour.

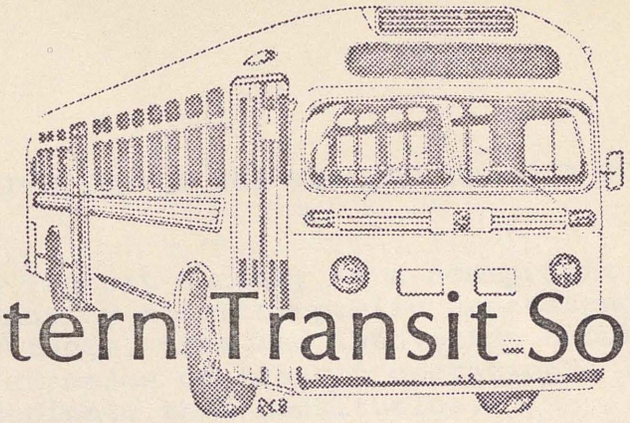

DATE: Sunday, November 12, 1972

TIME: 1:00 PM until 4:00 PM

PICK UP POINT: Atwater Avenue and Glendale Boulevard in Atwater section of Los Angeles

TO: Western Transit Society Members

SUBJECT: The Future of WTS

From the time of the founding of the Society (as the United Transit Boosters) in August of 1963 this organization has functioned on a loose organizational structure under the leadership of Ed Buckley and yours truly. Times change, just as people and organizations do. It has become apparent to the present management that in order for the Society to grow a more permanent organizational structure would be required and new leadership desired.

My resignation as General Manager of the Society became effective at the April 16, 1972 regular meeting, just as did the resignation of Ed Buckley as Assistant General Manager on the same date.

Due to the fact, however, that the reorganization has not yet been accomplished, Ed has agreed to temporarily accept the position of Acting General Manager until such time as the reorganization can be accomplished and elections be held. This action will ensure a continuity of leadership during the time of change.

Attached hereto you will find a copy of the first draft of a constitution for WTS. This is not to be considered the final document that you will be asked to approve or disapprove. The attached proposed constitution will be taken-up and acted upon at the May 1972 and possibly subsequent regular meetings. The proposed constitution is being given to you at this time so that you might digest its contents and suggest changes to be made and be incorporated in the final document. Persons who are unable to attend the meeting in person are invited to send their comments and suggestions to Ed Buckley at the above address.

We wish to thank the membership for its support over the past nine years.

Sincerely,

Gerald L. Squier
