MTA TO IMPROVE HOLLYWOOD BOULEVARD SECURITY -- Posing in front of Mann's Chinese Theater are some of the new faces on the street in Hollywood these days. Shown here are Community Service Representatives (CSRs), as well as patrol and escort officers, who are all employees of International Services, Inc., a security company under contract to the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Agency (MTA). Also pictured are officers and representatives from the Los Angeles City Police Department (LAPD), the MTA Transit Police, and representatives from the Community Redevelopment Agency, Hollywood Redevelopment Project. All of these agencies have teamed up under a program launched by the MTA and the CRA to beef up security and public safety along Hollywood Boulevard, and on adjacent streets and parking lots next to future Metro Rail stations.
