

Learn How to Do Business with MTA, Other Public Agencies at 10th Annual Greater Los Angeles Vendor Fair April 23

The 10th annual Greater Los Angeles Vendor Fair will take place Wednesday, April 23, at the Westin Bonaventure Hotel, 404 S. Figueroa Street in downtown Los Angeles.

This leading business outreach expo, the largest of its kind in the county, offers small and medium size business owners valuable information on how to do business with the MTA, Metropolitan Water District, L.A. Unified School District, city and county. Collectively, these organizations offer billions of dollars in contracting opportunities every year.

Participants will be able to interact directly with contract administrators, buyers, managers and other procurement personnel from host agencies, and will provide excellent networking opportunities to help build business partnerships.

This year's fair celebrates 10 years of progress working with local vendors, and will feature a special 10th anniversary luncheon featuring keynote address from leading author and motivational speaker Dennis Kimbro.

The Vendor Fair will also include hundreds of exhibitors offering a variety of products and services. All-day seminars on doing business with the government will be presented by the hosting agencies.

Admission to the Greater Los Angeles vendor fair is $55 and includes entry to all exhibit areas and a buyers guide including a staff directory of all sponsoring agencies' procurement departments and admission to all workshops and luncheon. A $10 ticket includes all of the above but does not include luncheon.
