

March 30, 2009

Contact:

Kim Upton/Marc Littman
Metro Media Relations
213.922.2703/922.2700
www.metro.net/pressroom

Metro Chief Operating Officer Carolyn Flowers Will Answer Questions About Bus Operations During April 3 Live Chat

- Archive of Live Chat April 3

Metro Chief Operating Officer Carolyn Flowers will host the next live Internet chat at noon, Friday, April 3, at metro.net. Flowers will discuss what it takes to run one of the largest bus operations in the United States.

With a fleet of 2,500 clean-air fueled buses serving more than 1,400 square miles and more than 1 million weekday boardings, bus operations is a job that takes thousands of men and women to accomplish.

What bus-related projects are first in line to receive Measure R dollars? Can Measure R be used to keep the buses running, or can it only go toward construction projects? Will the President's stimulus plan offer anything for bus riders? Is Metro still looking for bus operators? And, if so, how should potential candidates apply? How should customers file a concern or complaint? What kind of technology does Metro use to keep bus riders safe and secure?

Talk to Flowers live on April 3 or submit advance questions on bus operations at metro.net/chat.

Metro-036

Editors Note: "Metro" should be used when referring to this agency.