The Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro) will continue work to upgrade its signal systems on a section of the Metro C Line (Green), which will allow for a smoother transition of Metro trains coming in and out of the stations and train yards. This work requires the closure of the Norwalk, Lakewood Boulevard, and Long Beach Boulevard stations beginning Friday, Sept. 30, at 11 a.m. until the end of service, Sunday, Oct. 2, 2022.

Metro will provide free bus shuttles to replace all C Line rail service between the Norwalk Station and the Long Beach Station, stopping at all closed stations.

The shuttle between the Aviation/LAX Station and LAX that is operated by the Los Angeles World Airports will continue to run on its regular schedule.

Metro apologizes for any inconvenience to Metro Green Line patrons during this weekend closure. For the latest service updates, visit metro.net or follow Metro on Twitter@metrolosangles or metroalerts.
