Bicycle Design Workshops

In recognition of Bike to Work Month, the “Metro Bike Program” sponsored two Bicycle Design Workshops entitled “Design to Increase Bicycling” on Thursday, May 2, 2013 and Monday, May 20, 2013. The meetings were attended by more than 130 people. The participants represented local transportation agencies, cities, counties, and advocacy groups. The workshop covered a number of topics, such as updates to design guidance documents, Complete Streets, existing and innovative design approaches, and new tools for building bicycle ridership. Both workshops were led by Mr. John Ciccarelli of Bicycle Solutions, a nationally known bicycle planning expert who has taught bicycle design at Berkeley, UC Davis, and previously at Metro. We hope to continue to offer similar external and internal workshops in the future. To view photos from the workshops, please click here.
