Your Ticket to the Beach and Other Southern California Treasures!

As the summer months continue to heat up, remember that the beach and other fun places in Southern California are just a Metrolink ride away. Hop aboard a SummerLink train (formerly "The Beach Train"), which provides train service to the coast for Inland Empire and Orange County residents. Metrolink, the Riverside County Transportation Commission (RCTC), the San Bernardino Associated Governments (SANBAG), and the Orange County Transportation Authority (OCTA) are all working together to bring riders this service on Saturdays and Sundays through October 9. While other Southern California residents are dealing with traffic jams, long car rides, and beach-parking fees, you and your family can enjoy a stress-free ride directly to the coast aboard the SummerLink!

But wait, it gets better: SummerLink not only can take you to the beach, but also to many other fun Southern California destinations at its many stops along the way. For example, hop off at the San Juan Capistrano stop and enjoy the sights and sounds of this historic town.

SummerLink runs Saturdays and Sundays from the Rialto, San Bernardino, Downtown Riverside, La Sierra, North Main Corona, West Corona, Orange, Santa Ana, Tustin, Irvine, Laguna Niguel/Mission Viejo, San Juan Capistrano, San Clemente, San Clemente Pier, and Oceanside stations.

For more information on SummerLink train service, please call Metrolink at (800) 371-LINK (5465) or visit www.metrolinktrains.com for full SummerLink details and schedules.

Safety Matters

ALWAYS wait behind the line while standing on the station platform.

ALWAYS cross tracks at a designated crossing.

ALWAYS look both ways before crossing train tracks.

ALWAYS store your belongings below your seat or on your lap, not in the aisles.

ALWAYS collect your belongings and move toward the exit as soon as your station stop is announced. Remind fellow passengers to retrieve items left behind.

ALWAYS hold the handrail when climbing or descending the stairs on board the train and at the station.

ALWAYS secure bicycles at the locations across from the restrooms on each car.

NEVER lean on the passenger-car doors or attempt to hold them open.

NEVER walk along the tracks or use the right-of-way as a short cut. Trespassing on the railroad right-of-way is illegal and could result in a citation, monetary fine, serious injury, or death.

NEVER cross the tracks when the signal indicates that a train is coming. Flashing lights and ringing bells mean STOP and wait for the train to pass.

The Great Train Adventure

Back to school again, and our teacher has already given us our first homework assignment! We had to pick a location in Los Angeles County that we had never visited and write a school report about it. Where haven't I been in Los Angeles? A quick online search found the Pasadena Museum of History. From their Web site I could tell that the museum has lots of fun activities for my whole family to enjoy. I told my parents about my project and instead of encouraging me to just write about what I discovered on the Net, they told me that we could ride Metrolink into Los Angeles on Saturday and go to the museum!

Since the Pasadena Museum of History doesn't open until noon on Saturdays, we were able to sleep in that morning (one of my favorite things to do!). We hopped on the 10:05 a.m. Metrolink train at Rialto and headed to L.A. Union Station. Once we got there, we got on a Metro bus line that took us directly to the museum.

We arrived at the museum and started our day by taking a tour of the Fenyes Mansion and the Fenyes Garden. The garden is filled with sprawling greenery and colors that surround the house. They told us that the garden is often used for parties and weddings.

While we were there, we also visited the Finnish Folk Art Museum located on the Pasadena Museum grounds. The museum looks like a nineteenth-century Finnish farmhouse and is filled with really neat artifacts and exhibits. My younger brother told me this was his favorite part of the entire museum (but I still won't include him in my report!).

After an exhausting day of interesting activities, my family and I headed back to L.A. Union Station for our 8:30 p.m. train, but not before we stopped in Old Town Pasadena for a delicious dinner. As we headed back on our San Bernardino Line train, I sat back and thought about how great my report will be with all the great memories I had from our trip to Pasadena!

One in a Million

Long time Metrolink commuter Darayus Mistry started his day off with a surprise party on Wednesday, August 3, as representatives of Metrolink, Amtrak and Caltrans, were on hand to surprise him with confetti and balloons at Los Angeles Union Station. As the 1 Millionth Rail 2 Rail passenger, Mr. Mistry received a gigantic Metrolink annual pass, a California Rail Pass and an Amtrak Surfliner business class ticket for two. Mr. Mistry, a Metrolink rider for ten years, boards his train at the Tustin or Irvine station each morning and then transfers to an Amtrak train in Los Angeles to complete his trip to work in Van Nuys.

If you have a Metrolink Monthly pass on the Ventura or Orange County Lines, Rail 2 Rail allows you to use a combination of Amtrak and Metrolink trains for your daily trip.

Metrolink's Rail 2 Rail service is funded by the Ventura County Transportation Commission (VCTC), the Orange County Transportation Authority (OCTA) and the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transit Authority (Metro).

For more information about Rail 2 Rail please visit www.metrolinktrains.com or call 800 371-LINK (5465.)

Ask Metrolink!

Dear Metrolink,

As I was getting on my train this morning to work, I almost tripped over a briefcase that was in the aisle. The person who left the briefcase in the aisle saw me struggling over the item, but did not even attempt to move it. When I got to an empty seat another passenger had her feet on it. I didn't even want to sit down because now the seat was dirty! I've ridden the train for almost five years and have never had these problems before. Can you please give me some guidance? Thank you.

Sincerely,
A Loyal Rider

Dear Loyal Rider,

Thank you so much for your letter. We understand your frustration as this is not an uncommon complaint since ridership has grown over the last 5 years.

Here's what we recommend:

Courteously ask the person to move the briefcase. Alternatively, speak to the conductor about your concerns because they will help you. Metrolink's policy is that riders must stow their personal belongings on their laps or underneath their seats, because anything in the aisle can create a safety hazard. Passengers must keep their feet off the seats at all times. Here at Metrolink, our top priority is providing our riders with a safe and comfortable train experience.

Sincerely,
Metrolink

Off to a Good Start...

On July 1, 2005, Connex officially came on board as Metrolink's new operations contractor, supplying 57 conductors and 56 engineers to Metrolink trains. Connex replaced Amtrak, which had been supplying engineers and conductors to Metrolink since 1992. Though Connex officially began work just a month ago, Amtrak, Connex, and Metrolink have been working for months to ensure a smooth transition invisible to Metrolink riders. A vast majority of the new team of Connex conductors, engineers, and contractor-operation managers came from Amtrak and played a key role in the transition. Connex employees have met the same strict safety, training, and experience standards as Amtrak employees met.

Though Amtrak is no longer Metrolink's contract operator, Amtrak and Metrolink will continue to work together on other projects, including Rail 2 Rail, which allows Metrolink monthly-pass holders on the Ventura or Orange County lines to ride Amtrak trains within the bounds of their normal Metrolink origin and destination pairs.

Connex will be providing service to Metrolink for five years, with a five-year renewal option.

Metrolink would like to thank Amtrak for their service over the last 13 years and welcome Connex into the Metrolink family!
