
Metro Board of Directors
January 22, 2009

MOTION
Supervisor Antonovich

The American Heart Association (AHA) is sponsoring a “Go Red for Women” day on Friday, February 6th. The purpose of this event is to bring attention to the fight against heart disease in women, which as the nation’s leading killer of women claims the lives of nearly 500,000 mothers, daughters, sisters and friends annually.

As a precursor to this special day, the AHA is requesting that prominent buildings in the Los Angeles area illuminate their windows in the shape of a heart on the evening of Thursday, February 5th.

Other buildings that have displayed a tribute to this day are Los Angeles City Hall, the Metropolitan Water District, the Citigroup Center, the Bank of America Plaza, and the City National Plaza, among others.

I, THEREFORE, MOVE that the Metro Board of Directors directs the CEO to work with the American Heart Association and staff to illuminate the Metro Gateway building with a heart on all four sides of the building on the evening of February 5th, in support of the AHA’s Go Red for Women campaign.
